Member Clubs celebrated the opening of the new Deck Shelter funded by the Tasmanian Community Fund. The project started back in 2017/18 with a funding application managed by Sylvia Wing and then carried on by Lynne Farrell and the Fundraising Committee.

The shelter has proved a great asset to the Centre, providing an excellent entertainment area and protection from the elements, proving most beneficial over the last month with all the activities going on.

The Centre has certainly been busy with Tournaments and Competitions, Fundraising, Lawn upgrading and Constitution restructuring.

CONSTITUTION

Over 30 people attended the Constitution Forum, held on Monday 27th May 2019 at the Centre.

With great participation from those present, the Draft Constitution was debated, probed, with additions, deletions and amendments all being part of the process.

The panel of experts present to address questions, explain why, or why not a Clause should be in or out, was made up of:

Leigh Oswin, Project Manager from Sport & Rec., Jo Byrne, Lawyer from Ray and Partners (both who were involved in establishing the draft to be discussed), and also Andy Gibson, Lecturer at Law and author of the International encyclopaedia on sport law.

Input towards the Constitution was received from Peter Tracey, and also the founding father of the Centre, Ian Scott.

It was highlighted that Northern Tasmanian Croquet Centre was not affiliated to the TCA. That the Centre's role was to provide a facility so that Croquet can be played and promoted. Not to administer the sport.

Overall the Forum proved successful, ending with revised form for re-drafting.....and re-drafting. With a final solid Constitution, hopefully, to be completed in the not too distant future.

Now we have winter upon us....! So it's out with the thermals, beanies, gloves, scarfs, hand warmers and wet weather gear etc., in readiness to compete with the elements, which we do well....for you can't keep a croquet player down!
